Consumer Benefits

Five Decades of Engineering for the Perfect Home Theater Sound
Signa S4D was designed in our Acoustic Research and Development Center outside Baltimore, MD by the speaker experts at Polk. We've leveraged over 50 years of American hi-fi loudspeaker engineering so Signa S4D will deliver the surround sound experience you've always dreamed of in your home—but at a value you could never imagine.

Dolby Atmos Certified 3.1.2 Sound Bar System

Enjoy the latest blockbuster releases, immersive music, and your favorite TV shows in the amazing 3D sound provided by Dolby Atmos* and the Signa S4D. Its advanced seven-driver array and wireless subwoofer deliver a lifelike Atmos listening experience with a huge soundstage and effortless bass. With Signa S4D, you'll hear sounds flying overhead courtesy of up-firing speakers that support Atmos height channels, and any non-Atmos content you watch can also be enjoyed in a virtual Atmos experience. *Requires HDMI eARC connection.

Customizable Sound to Hear Every Word and More

Polk's patented VoiceAdjust™ technology combines with Signa S4D's dedicated center channel for clear, easy-to-understand dialogue. Bass Adjust controls bass on both the sound bar and sub, ensuring maximum impact. Plus, one-button presets for movie watching and music listening, along with Night Mode—so you won't wake the neighbors or kids during late-night binge-watching sessions.

Sets Up in Seconds

One simple connection via the included HDMI or optical cable (or aux-in for older TVs) ensures the ultimate listening experience with virtually any TV—even the latest 8K Ultra-HD TVs. For added convenience, Signa S4D is pre-programmed to work with most TV remotes out of the box and it quickly pairs to your mobile device via Bluetooth to stream your favorite music.
